HOW NATURE COVERS UP BATTLE FIELDS. -"Did I ever tell you, says a correspondent of at Eastern paper, among the affecting little things one is always seeing in these battle fields, how, on the ground upon which the battle of Bull Run was fought, I saw pretty, pure, delicate flowers growing out of the empty ammunition boxes; and a wild rose thrusting its graceful head through the top of a broken drum, which doubtless sounded its last charge in that batele; and a cunning scarlet verbens peeping out of a fragment of bursted shell, in which strange pot it was planted! Wasn't that peace growing out of war?
